National Day of Mourning

On April 28 IBEW 2067 acknowledges the National Day of Mourning.

Today is a Day of Mourning for workers killed or injured on the job. This year's theme is "stop the pandemic at work". In our workplace, injuries and deaths are preventable even with a pandemic.

IBEW 2067 wants you to follow proper procedures as laid out in your area to prevent contracting and the spread of the virus while working safely at our jobs.

Brothers and Sisters take a moment to mourn our fellow workers who have been killed or injured on the job. Take time to reaffirm your personal commitment to work safely and the prevention of future injury and death.
